Best Coctails In this City

This morning on opening our country orders we were greatly pleased to receive the following from a gentleman in Bahia Blanca.

Gentleman.

I fully believe the advice given in your advertisment has saved my life. Yesterday I took a long drive in the camp. The morning was fine, but in the evening a terrible cold South wind came up and began to chill me to the bone. Last spring I was ill with pneumonia and my lungs have since been delicate; what could I do without wraps and only thin clothing on. All at once the idea occured to me that the suggestion in your advertisment might be put into practice, so I called at a rancho and asked for an old newspaper, folded it up, laid it across my chest, buttoned my coat and drove off triumphantly; but I may assure you, that next time I am in town I will call upon you and lay in a good stock of underclothing and also try a few of your celebrated Pyjama suits.

This is very gratifying and shows us that our endeavours to serve the public are appreciated, and that our motto 'the Best is Cheapest', is in the end the most satisfactory for all concerned.

We take the opportunity to thank our patrons for their past favours, and hope that our present pleasant relations may continue.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

(From our own Correspondent)

February 12th.

Whatever your professional eyes may discover in the news by this mail, I must acknowledge myself fairly defeated. There is not a single subject one can touch unless one were to leave the smoke room and reading room, and dive into the recesses of the club library and write about the Hittites. The week commenced with the late Mr. Spurgeon's body lying in state at the Tabernacle, and it will close with the coming in state of General Booth. Between these events, the opening of parliament passed unnoticed, and would have remained unnoticed were it not that the new leader of the Unionist party, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, seized the opportunity last night of asserting his position, and reminding the Gladstonites that the Duke of Devonshire, though now present in the House, and perched up in the Peers' gallery listening to him, was officially in another place better suited to his stolidity of mind, and that if "my Right Hon. friends," Messrs. Morley and Harcourt, wanted "whackee whack whack," he Joe Chamberlain was now their man. Mr. Chamberlain knew the raw spots in the Gladstonite hide—the unrevealed Home Rule Bill, and certain flaccid opinions on the British occupation of Egypt—these he rubbed in his most skilful way till Harcourt could barely keep his seat, and Morley rose in an evident rage. It was no use. Mr. Morley's literature and philosophy availed him nought and every explanation he offered seemed a confession; and the truth on his side, and it was real truth, only seemed an encumbrance. Chamberlain had got blood from the old wounds, and the more Mr. Morley tried to hide it, and the more seriously he seemed to take the digs dealt by the Brummagen pricker the more the Tories giggled, the more gleefully glermed the eyes of the Parnellites and sadder grew the faces of the leaderless Liberals. Far away in the Riviera sits the aged chief of a party he has twice ruined, and the conservatives say he will ruin it again, for they care nothing about the general election as if Gladstone comes in he will go out again in six months and then they will have another lease of power for seven years. I am not so sure about that, but I do think the so-called Liberal party is in a perilous position. It is pitifully off for leaders. The Gladstone flag no longer covers the whole party, and in truth Gladstone, Morley, Rosebery and Harcourt represent but a declining fourth party intermediate between the dissentients and the true Liberals, whose lieutenants are not yet to the front. You see in the newspapers and I dare say you think that the coming fight will be on Home Rule. That delusion has been dispelled more than once, but the Gladstonite leaders will stick to it and it will prove their damnation.

The English people, or those of them not interested in land-holding in Ireland know nothing and care nothing about Ireland. If the Irish want a separate legislature in any shape consistent with the security and welfare of the three kingdoms, the boon, the privilege, the right or whatever it may be deemed, will be tossed over to them as a mere incident in the greater struggle which will commence a few days hence, and not in the Houses of Parliament but in St. James' Hall, and the initiation will not be due to the Liberals or the Democrats, but to the great landowners Whig and Tory, of whom the Duke of Devonshire equally with the Marquess of Salisbury is a natural leader. The understrappers who are now inciting their rank and file to action are men like that successful attorney Sir Henry James, Lord Wemyss, the Duke of Westminster, the Duke of Bedford and the supporters of the Property Defence Association. Liberals like Sir John Lubbock, Lord Rosebery and peradventure Mr. Gladstone, Mr. John Morley and Sir William Harcourt, are half-allied to these men, and amongst the known politicians, the old lot, I can scarcely point to a single Liberal who will ultimately oppose the "Moderates" unless it be the skunk Chamberlain and the morally disgraced Dilke. Truly, we, the "Progressists" are pitifully off for leaders. But the enemy have of their own will come down from the heights where, for a time at least, they would have been safe and "the Lord hath delivered them into our hands." You will have read your "Fortnightly," you will have seen Sir John Lubbock's article on the "London Program." You may have remarked the difficulty the scientistical banker experiences in reconciling his general disapproval of the program with his admiration for the skill with which that program has been drawn up and the irrefragable truths it contains. It is mainly the work of Mr. Harrison, a sharp London solicitor who has leaseholds and freeholds and rates and taxes at his fingers' ends, and of Mr. Sidney Webb, one of the mainstays of the Fabian Society. Need more be said? If the Lubbocks and the Roseberys take fright and skulk out of the London County Council it is not surprising that the Wemyss' and the Westminsters should hire Sir Henry James to spout at a great meeting—by ticket if you please—to be held next week in St. James' Hall to take into consideration the "London Program" and the action of the Progressists in the London Council. The Progressists have just been defeated at the School Board elections and they may be defeated again next month at the London County Council, election. But the challenge has come and the fight has commenced, and, to my mind, the final issue is not doubtful. That the landowners should have thrown down the glove is just what was wanted to cleanse the parliamentary debates of the now wearisome banalities anent Egypt and Ireland, small holdings, allotments and shams; and throughout the country to marshal face to face the real fighting political forces of the close of this century. Let us for the present name those forces Moderates and Progressists.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

London, Feb. 13th.

The Prince and Princess of Wales, with Prince George and Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, attended by Colonel Stanley Clarke, left Victoria Station at 3.30 by special train for Eastbourne, where they will remain at Compton House, belonging to the Duke of Devonshire, for several weeks.

The Duke and Duchess of Teck and Princess May arrived at Portsmouth at two yesterday, and were received by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Sir John McNeill. Their Royal Highnesses crossed over in the Alberta to Osborne, where they will remain till Tuesday.

That Prince George will be married at an early date there is not the slightest doubt, but there is some doubt as to who will be the object of his choice. Two names are mentioned in connection with those of the Prince. They are both those of English princesses—that is to say of young ladies who were born in England, and who have had a thoroughly comprehensive education. One is the Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, daughter of Prince Christian, who was born on the 3rd of May, 1870, and so in a few months will be twenty-two years of age. The other name associated with that of Prince George is that of Princess Victoria of Hesse, the youngest daughter of the Princess Alice, a young lady who was born on the 6th of June, 1872, and who, therefore, will not be twenty till next June. Of either of these young ladies little is known by the general public. They are both extremely bright and beautiful, and it is known that the former particularly is admired by Prince George.

"General" Booth arrived at Paris on Wednesday on his way home and left again for England yesterday. In the course of an interview the "General" stated that he should select the Cape for his 'over sea' colony as being the most favourable field for the experiment. The "General" expressed surprise that in Paris and in France generally less interest was taken in social reforms than in other countries. The London and South-Western Company's steamer Hilda left Southampton yesterday afternoon for Cherbourg to embark "General" Booth. The vessel, which had been specially chartered, had a large number of the "General's" friends on board.

A Southampton correspondent says:—Salvationists began to arrive here at an early hour this morning to welcome "General" Booth home, and the trains are rapidly bringing contingents from all parts of the country. Some corps paraded the streets as early as nine o'clock, headed by bands and singing songs considered appropriate to the occasion.

Every effort is being made by Sir Edward Bradford, the Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, and Colonel Henry Smith, the City Police Commissioner, to prevent the general public, as far as possible, from being inconvenienced by the "triumphal march" of the Salvation Army to-morrow. Serious obstruction to traffic is, however, anticipated in and near the route of the procession. "General" Booth, in whose honour the march is to take place, will be present, and it is anticipated that it will be formed up in Hyde Park about half past one o'clock. On leaving the park the Army will proceed, by way of Oxford-street and Holborn, to its headquarters in Queen Victoria-street. The route originally intended to be taken on reaching Holborn-circus was the Viaduct, Newgate-street, and Cheapside, turning by the Mansion House into Queen Victoria-street. Colonel Smith, however, on this proposal being submitted to him, stated that the procession, on reaching the City, must go to its destination by the most direct route, which will cause the least inconvenience. The Army will therefore, on arriving at Holborn-circus, turn into St. Bride-street, and go by Ludgate-circus and New-Bridge-street to Queen Victoria-street.

At the Mansion House to-day, Alfred Elborough, stockbroker, was charged with stealing ten Argentine Gold Bonds, of the value of £114. The prosecutor was Mr. Bennett, a forage contractor, and on the 25th of November he was introduced to the prisoner, who said that if he would entrust him with the bonds he would sell them for him. He accordingly handed him the bonds. The prisoner left him and came back saying it was too late to sell them. From that day to this he had never seen the prisoner nor the bonds; but he had received a cheque for £10 in a letter from Mrs. Elborough. The bonds and coupons were payable to bearer, and the market value on the day they were handed to the prisoner was £114. Mr. Alderman Dimsdale remanded the prisoner, but admitted him to bail.

A telegram from Holyhead says:—The Sunderland steamer Meath, went ashore in Holyhead Bay. The sea is dashing over, her, and she is filling with water. The Meath is a steamer of about 1,500 tons register, and was engaged in the American tinned provision trade between the River Plate and England. The crew were rescued last night.

Her Majesty's ship Blake, the largest cruiser in the world, was commissioned at Chatham by Captain Hamilton, as flagship of Vice-Admiral J. O. Hopkins, the newly appointed Commander-in-Chief on the North-American Station. She has a displacement of 14,000 tons and is fitted with engines of 20,000 horsepower.

Paris, Feb. 11th.

The marriage of the Duc de la Rochefoucauld, Captain of the 16th Chasseurs, with Miss Mattie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. John Mitchell, United States senator, was solemnised here at noon to-day in the fashionable church of Sainte Clotilde, in the Faubourg St. Germain. The witnesses for the bridegroom were the Comte de la Valette, Colonel of the 16th Chasseurs and the Duc de la Rochefoucauld, and for the bride Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the United States Minister in Paris, and Baron de Struve, the Russian Minister Plenipotentiary in Washington. All the old nobility of France and the "elite" of the American colony were represented at the wedding.

Two French Professors—Cornil and Chantemesse—have informed the Paris Academy of Medicine that they have actually caught some of the influenza bacilli, and are cultivating them in "bouillon," after the Pasteur method. The organisms are formed like the figure "eight," and the largest of them are barely the size of the 20th part of the diameter of a drop of blood. Experiments were made on rabbits and monkeys; the animals inoculated showing every symptom of influenza soon after they had been injected with the preparation obtained by the professors from the cultivation of the microbe.

Jaques Inaudi—the new Babbage, whose extraordinary calculating powers have justly astonished the erudite members of the Academy of Sciences—has a curious history. He went to Paris in 1880, having begged his way from his native Piedmont. At Béziers he astonished a worthy farmer, who was sitting outside a cafe trying to make up his accounts after a successful market day. The agriculturist was baffled by the figures, and Inaudi offered to help him, but his assistance was at first rejected with scorn. Afterwards the farmer allowed the youth to have a try, and, without the help of pencil or paper, Inaudi balanced the complicated accounts to a sou. On arrival at Paris the Piedmontese Babbage was taken in hand by André Gill, the caricaturist, and has been able to gain a living since by performing intricate calculations on the boards of music halls. Inaudi multiplies from left to right, and in all the difficult arithmetical problems given to him by the Academicians he never made a single error.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

Considerable indignation appears to prevail throughout Santa Fé in view of the attitude of the farmers of the grain-tax. These gentlemen seem determined on getting their pound of flesh, and to that humane end have begun to skin the settlers. They fine people who refuse to pay the tax, and the authorities appear to lend themselves to this fleecing business. The emissaries of the tax-farmers are running all over the province collecting taxes and fines. The peaceful settlers pay under protest. In the meantime, there is an order from the courts suspending the tax, and it is difficult to make out by what right the tax is being collected. The indignation of the wheat-farmers is very great. In fact, the collectors run the risk of being suspended. Several leading wheat-farmers from the colonies are at present in Rosario, where they are filing protests against the tax and above all the summary embargoes which the tax-farmers have made to ensure payment. It is admitted on all sides that this tax is illegal, it being nothing short of blackmail, and the fact that the Judge ordered the suspension of the tax confirms that opinion. Yet the authorities continue to play into the hands of the purchasers or farmers of the tax. The Judge, who ordered the suspension of the tax, will, no doubt, proceed to deal severely with those who have so openly defied the court.

There is most distressing news from Olavarria. The police and several "caudillos oficiales" attacked the town-hall last Tuesday and dispersed the councillors with astonishing celerity, the corporation lending itself to the proceedings by bolting with peaceful prudence and municipal discretion. The Intendente Mr. Giovanelli made a brief show of resistance by refusing to give up the keys. The assailants then proceeded to break open the drawers of the desk with the fiendish object of destroying the reports of the proceedings of the Corporation. This was too much for the honorable councillors, who immediately bolted. The greatest indignation prevails in Olavarria. We regret to say that the assailants sent out for the village smith and had the safe broken. There were $12,000 in the safe at the time.

The report of the Provincial Free and Easy Bank of Entre Rios for last year is now out. The report begins with an account of the issues made and their withdrawal, strictly according to the spirit and letter of the law. The Bank cleared a profit of $1,243,000. However the Bank deems it advisable to deduct from that amount $239,000 for bad or doubtful debts. Furthermore the Bank deducts $180,000 to be placed to the Reserve and Pension Funds. But enough remains to distribute a dividend of eight per cent. This is the third provincial free bank which has now declared a dividend.

Thousands of adhesions to the Luis Saenz-Peña candidature are pouring in from the provinces. It appears quite a foregone conclusion that the worthy Judge will be raised to the Chief Magistracy.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

March 9.

Government has telegraphed to Dr. Ellauri to return. Henceforward the negotiations for the new bank will be carried on directly with the representative here of the London Syndicate. It is expected that Dr. Ellauri will embark to-day or to-morrow.

The New Bank Bill comes on for discussion this evening in the Senate. There is no opposition to the Bill now.

Government has issued a decree prohibiting the usual follies of Carnival. Now that Carnival is over, the decree seems out of place. Next year perhaps the decree will be annulled.

Dr. Assiz Brazil has completely recovered from his recent attack of illness. He is to be officially received next week and he will then proceed to B. Ayres He comes on a special mission to the Plate.

The Portuguese Minister, Mr. Sauza Lobo, leaves to-morrow for Buenos Ayres.

Fresh cases of yellow fever are reported on board the Adela. It is, moreover, announced that there is yellow fever on board the Charente.

The weather at present is delightfully fresh here.

THE BATEMAN LEGACY.

BONUS OF £400,000.

Mr. Justice North, on Saturday, resumed the hearing of the petition for the sanction of the Court to the scheme put forward by the liquidators of this company.

Mr. Cozens-Hardy, Q.C., reminded his Lordship that the only portion of the scheme which he at present asked approval of was that which dealt with the claims of the scripholders. This, he said, had been approved by the scripholders and by a large majority of the contributories, and there was no dispute that these scripholders were entitled to a first charge over the whole of the assets of the company. The only objections were that the sanction of the directors to the rescission agreement was ultra vires, which he submitted was wholly untenable, and, secondly, that owing to what was described as a bribe offered by Messrs. Baring to a certain number of shareholders—namely, those who had purchased their shares direct from that house—the resolution passed by the shareholders was not valid; but even assuming that to be so, he should simply ask his Lordship to strike out the votes of those shareholders, and it would still leave a majority of nearly ten to one in favour of the resolution.

Sir Horace Davey, Q.C., said he appeared for Messrs. Malman, who were originally owners of one-half of this concession, which was transferred to Messrs. Hale, and they received their purchase money for that concession, which was taken to be of very great value, namely, £400,000, in ordinary fully paid up shares. They parted with £80,000 of those fully paid up shares to Messrs. Franken, the plaintiffs in the other action, and they still held 320,000 fully paid ordinary shares. He submitted that the Court ought not to sanction the resolutions at all. There were other points well worthy of consideration in his case, but, substantially, it was this: that this scheme had been hatched by Messrs. Baring and Co. for the sole purpose of keeping themselves out of bankruptcy or liquidation, and of relieving themselves from an onerous obligation which they had undertaken which was capable of being enforced against them. Secondly, that the scheme, having been hatched and concocted by Messrs. Baring for that purpose, was one the sole benefit of which would go to Messrs. Baring and their friends, by whom he meant the syndicate underwriting and sharing their liabilities with them. Thirdly, that this so-called ratification of this scheme had been obtained by offering pecuniary inducements and particular advantages to a certain section and number of the ordinary shareholders. The "contractors" was simply another name for Messrs. Baring, because the "finance" contract was entered into, and Messrs. Baring were to find the whole of the moneys required by S. B. Hale and Co. for the purpose of paying the annual sums to the Government, and for the purpose of executing the works in accordance with the contract, and they became purchasers of the whole of the company's preference capital, the whole of the debentures, and a sum of £500,000 of the ordinary share capital, which was allotted to S. B. Hale and Co. There was no doubt about that, because it appeared from the prospectus issued by Barings for the purpose of endeavouring to place the share capital of the company upon the public. Barings and their friends were the sole persons who passed this resolution. What was their position? The works were partially executed, shares and debentures were issued, and came into the hands of Messrs. Baring at the end of 1890. At the end of 1890 it was notorious that arrangements were made by several influential financiers in the City of London for the purpose of assisting Messrs. Baring to liquidate their liabilities, but it was made a "sine qua non" by one of the principal persons (Lord Rothschild) in that liquidation scheme that they should get rid of their liabilities under the Buenos Ayres Water contract. There was no pretence that he could find on the papers for saying that the scheme was going on other than prosperously had it not been for the embarrassed condition of Messrs Baring. Messrs. Baring had not become bankrupt—the were still solvent—and he had no reason to doubt that if pressure had not been put upon them, and if it had not been necessary for them to liquidate their affairs by means of the guarantee, the water scheme might have been brought to its completion and the ordinary shareholders have entered into possession of their property. His (Sir Horace Davey's) clients had always said "Let Messrs. Barings perform their obligations at the risk which [other people of less distinguished character have had to do, or go into bankruptcy." He now came to the second act of the drama, and proceeded to show how every penny of these bonds which were to come from the Argentine Government under the rescission contract were to go, directly or indirectly, to Messrs. Baring and Co. and their "group". How did he make that out? The bonds were to go first to the scrip holders, secondly to the preference holders, and the whole balance to be handed over to Hale and Company in consideration of their doing certain works which had to be done under the construction contract. Not a single penny of these bonds was to go to the ordinary shareholders. By what means were the ordinary shareholders induced to pass this resolution? This was the most disagreeable part of the drama. A committee was appointed on the 28th. May, 1891, consisting of 3-5ths preference, and 2-5ths ordinary shareholders. They made the following report:—"Your committee having had placed before them by the directors the fullest information of the present condition of the company have carefully considered the same in reference to the contract for rescission and contemporaneous rearrangement between the company and the contractors, they regret to say, after having considered all the circumstances, they have unanimously come to the conclusion that there is no prospect of obtaining betters terms." The letter from Messrs. Baring spoke for itself; there was no necessity to comment on it; it was a direct pecuniary inducement to a substantial proportion of the shareholders to vote in a particular manner on a question which equally interested themselves and their co-shareholders. He submitted that he had shown sufficient ground to justify him in asking the Court not to sanction the scheme.

Mr. Butcher, who appeared for Mr. Franken, adopted Sir Horace Davey's argument.

Mr. Cozens-Hardy was replying when the further hearing was adjourned until Tuesday.

EXPORT OF CATTLE.

Mr. Emilio Lahitte has sent the following communication to the Foreign Affairs Minister:—

To Dr. Stanislaus S. Zeballos.

Dear Sir,

The Customs dues now enforced by France shew plainly that our rural industries have no safe base in the future. The improvement of our cattle-breeds, the bounties and guarantees granted to foment the exportation of meat, the export of live cattle are correlative facts, but it is wonderful how quickly one has followed the other.

I have before me the manifesto issued by the Rural Society in October 1889, shewing the necessity of improving the breeds and exporting live-cattle. Estancieros followed the advice contained in that manifesto, and, I repeat, it is astonishing how quickly the transformation has taken place. Our house—Vasquez and Company—are in a position to appreciate it, since we receive consignments of live cattle for export Every day we receive methodically fattened oxen, each bearing an inscription giving the respective weights, and all tame. I do not mean to say that all the animals we receive fulfill these conditions, but we can take it for granted that (1) the production of fat, tame animals exceeds the demand of local consumption; (2) that the provinces are increasing their production of animals, which find a ready market abroad. At a moment when we are realizing this progress, one of our principal foreign markets closes its doors against us. France has decreed prohibitive duties on cattle imported from those countries with which she has no commercial treaties. Here we are now placed between a rapidly increasing production and the danger of our foreign markets closing their doors against us.

The actual tariff is (an ox weighing 1400lbs and a wether 140lbs) as follows:

	Per Head
	Oxen	Wethers	Horses
France...	70 fr.	10.85 fr.	30 fr.
Italy.....	38 "	3 00 "	—
Spain....	40 "	2.40 "	—
Belgium..	35 "	2.50 "	—
England..	No duties.

Formerly the duties in France were 38 frs. per ox and 5 frs. per wether. Under these duties our export gave satisfactory results. But the new duties are prohibitive. It is, therefore, advisable that the Government should make treaties of commerce with France, which was our best market, and with Italy, Spain, and Belgium.

In making this suggestion I merely interpret the sentiments of cattle-growers. If the suggestion be carried out, you will have the satisfaction of saving a splendid industry.

Yours obediently.
Emilio Lahitte.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE RIVER PLATE.

By the Rev. J. W. Fleming, M.A., B.D., Buenos Ayres.

The Presbyterian Church in Buenos Ayres, or, as it is almost universally called, 'The Scotch [Church,' has the honour of being the first Presbyterian Church in South America. It had its origin in a colony which left Scotland for Buenos Ayres in 1825. This colony was founded by Mr. John Parish Robertson, who carefully selected the colonists and chose the very best type of our Godfearing Scottish peasantry. The little settlement prospered for a time, and numbered as many as 350 Scotch. One of the first results of prosperity was the desire to have a minister, and in response to a request made through Dr. Chalmers, the Rev. Wm. Brown was ordained and sent to Buenos Ayres. Soon after his arrival, the failure of crops, together with a revolution, showed the colonists that their settlement was before its time, the consequence being that the colony broke up. Mr. Brown was about to go back to Scotland, but the Scotch who had settled in the city begged him to remain, and with much self-denial he consented. In 1829 the present Scotch Church was built, and Mr. Brown remained as its minister for twenty-five years of the stormy times that attended the childhood of the Argentine Republic. He afterwards went to Scotland and became Professor of Biblical Criticism in St. Andrew's University. Great praise is due to Dr. Brown for the wisdom with which he guided the spiritual affairs of the colonists.

Scotchmanlike, he founded a school in connection with the Church, which was for many years an institution of the highest class. It had a period of decadence, but is again in a flourishing condition,—one of the very few shools in this continent where the Scriptures are taught daily. Last year it had a gross income of nearly £1,000. Dr. Brown was succeeded in 1854 by the Rev. James Smith, a man most eminently suited for the work,—genial and kindly, fond of visiting his people; with a physique that could stand any amount of walking or riding. Dr. Smith will never be forgotten while Scotchmen remain in these lands. Under him various developments took place. The Church was brought under the Consular Act, and till the Act was rescinded, the half of the minister's stipend was paid by the British Government. Then as the country became more populated another church was built about thirty miles south of Buenos Ayres. The Rev. Francis Gebbie ministered to this church for twenty-five years, retiring in 1883.

In 1862 a church was built still further out, about 100 miles from Buenos Ayres, and the Rev. Martin P. Ferguson, M.A., was called to be its minister. He continues to reside and preach at Chascomus, but his congregation has become scattered, and he only preaches on alternate Sundays at the church. Soon after Mr. Ferguson's arrival a further step was taken. Some Scotch Estancieros on the opposite side of the River Plate generously guaranteed a salary for a minister to labour among the settlers along the River Uruguay, and in the camps of the Banda Oriental. The Rev. Lachlan McNeill, a Gaelic-speaking minister, was brought out, and held the post for a few years; but hard times came, sheep died, people left the country, and Mr. McNeill had to give up this field. He is now minister at St. John's, where he succeeded Mr. Gebbie.

The problem of following our people is one of the most serious questions for the future of the Church in these Republics. People are getting more scattered. At first they were all near the Capital,—now they extend 400 miles out in all directions. And when it is remembered that our settlers are not in colonies or districts by themselves, but mixed and surrounded by other nationalities, it will be seen that the future of our outside churches is anything but a bright one. The same thing is taking place in the City of Buenos Ayres. Some years ago almost all our congregation were within walking distance of the church, which is in the centre of the city. Now the double process of increased rents and greater travelling facilities, as well as purer air, has driven the majority of our people to the suburbs, where coming to church means, in some cases, more than half the day away from home. The Presbyterian Church in Buenos Ayres, which is at present in connection with no Synod, or even Presbytery, has striven to meet this difficulty by holding services in various suburbs. Other Churches have joined harmoniously. In one suburb we take alternate Sundays with Anglicans; in another with Methodists. An assistant minister has been got for the writer of this paper, who succeeded the Rev. Dr. Smith as minister of St. Andrew's Church in 1883, and between them four or five services are held in the suburbs every Sunday.

All these churches, though now on a broad basis, recognising simply the "Confession of Faith" and Presbyterian form of Government, are Scotch by extraction. But besides this there is a Welsh colony on the River Chubut, very far south in the Republic. This colony was founded in 1865, and now contains about 2,000 souls. A Presbyterian Church with five stations exists there; and for some years they had a minister. He left the colony in 1885, and since then they have been without a minister. It is expected, however, that before these lines are in print, another will be at work. Lastly, there is a colony of Waldensians, with two ministers, situated near Colonia, in the adjoining Republic of Uruguay.

To sum up, we have, at present, St. Andrew's Church, Buenos Ayres, with four stations, eight elders, 200 at Sunday school, and 350 members; St. John's Church with two regular stations and nine other points where occasional services are held, three elders and eighty members; St. Andrew's Church, Chascomus, with one regular preaching station, and sixteen points where occasional services are held, four elders, sixty at Sunday school, and ninety-three members; Chubut: five preaching stations, with Sunday schools at all of them, and 150 members; Waldensian Church: regular services at six points, nine elders and deacons, 100 at Sunday school, 425 members, and 110 adherents. The Rev. Dr. Smith still preaches at many places in the camp, but has no regular charge or district.

It may be asked, 'Is there any Presbytery?' To which we must answer, 'No!' It is very desirable that there should be one, for at present there is and can be no effective discipline over the various ministers, and there is no united action in furthering Presbyterian interests. We are in fact in most respects, Congregationalists, rather than Presbyterians. And yet, much as he desires it, it seems to the writer that the time is not yet come for a Presbytery of the River Plate. Our Churches are too scattered; only three of them have common interests. One (Chubut) is so far away, that it would neither be strengthened nor be a strength. We preach three different languages, and have somewhat divergent customs in certain matters. All this will be got over in time; and history is made rapidly in such a new country. But though I believe that we would all be quite ready to unite in forming a Presbytery, I do not think it would have the elements of cohesion and effective discipline. The one result that would come would be a deeper interest in each others welfare; but it seems to me we must wait a little yet before we bind ourselves in an organic unity that, as happened to another church organization in these countries, might prove to be a union on paper only, which might give scope for a disunion that would create rancour and recrimination.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

In regard to the question which has arisen between the Government and the Argentine Great Western, owing to the latter refusing to build a station at La Carpinteria, decreed by the former, the Attorney General has issued a report shewing that there is no ground for arbitration. In other words, the company will have to build the station as required by Government.

The Procurator of the Treasury has reported favorably on the modifications proposed in the contract between the Pacific and the Villa-Maria—Rufino Railways.

The East Argentine Railway Company, who brought an action against Messrs Clark and Company for the recovery of freight to the amount of $54,000, have agreed to take 70% of that sum.

Government has approved the plans of the provisional station which the Central Cordoba proposes to build at kil. 428.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The anxiously expected answer to the address of condolence sent to the Queen and Princess of Wales by English mothers and daughters in this country has arrived, and will be found in another column.

We are asked if in an ordinary game of "poker" an ace, two, three, four, and five, count as a straight? Of course they do. Why this is the alphabet of the entrancing game invented by our Cousin Jonathan.

The Immigration returns for 1891 read sadly. 73,000 souls and bodies came and 90,900 went away, leaving Argentina minus of 17,300. What a change from the years of boom and bunkum.

There was snow in London yesterday. The interesting intelligence came under the sea to the R.P.T.C. in eight minutes. Capital going—or rather coming.

We had a very polite note yesterday from the Post Master General, offering to see into the complaint from a subscriber at Frias, published in our issue of the 27th ult., if the writer be kind enough to call on or write to him. We thank Dr. Carles for his courtesy in the matter.

Rumours of more yellow fever cases in steamers at Montevideo were afloat yesterday. Why do steamers persist in calling at Brazilian ports?

The concert in the Onrubia Theatre to-morrow night for the benefit of The Railway Employees Mutual Aid Society will be the event of the season. Furlotti commands in chief, and the programme is of the most varied and attractive kind. An overflowing house is expected, as there are few families who have not relatives or friends connected with or interested in the now extensive railway system of the country.

We regret to notice the death of Mr. Joseph Traynor, of Calle Tucuman, at the early age of 45. He was in the office of this paper from 1861 to 1868. His father was a builder, having come to this country in the early part of the century, and his mother was the best bonnet-maker in Buenos Ayres during two generations. His parents left him a decent fortune and he was well known and much esteemed in a wide circle of friends.

We read also with pain in a London paper the demise of Mr. Frederick Algar of Clement's Lane, who was for 30 years one of the agents of our journal; he is succeeded in the business by his son, Mr. F. T. Algar.

In the account published last week the largest torpedo-tubes of the Murature were erroneously said to be 10-inch diameter; they are 16-inch, being the largest in the world. Those in the British navy do not exceed 14-inch.

The wittiest sermon ever preached in the English language was delivered in reference to one Madame Cresswell—a noted person in the time of Charles I. Madame had been often scourged, and finally she died in Bridewell. In her will she left ten pounds to have a sermon preached at her funeral on the condition that the preacher said nothing but what was 'well' of her. The ingenious parson earned his money, and got out of the difficulty with his conscience, by preaching as follows:—"By the will of the deceased, it is expected that I should mention her, and say nothing but what is well of her. All that I shall say of her, therefore, is this: She was born well, she lived well, and she died well, for she was born with the name of Cresswell, she lived in Clerkenwell, and she died in Bridewell."

Beware of forged "conformes" of the once great now fallen Provincial Bank. Several "cambistas" have been "stuck," and are in a depressed frame of mind.

Look out for the beautiful new shinplasters brought out from London by the La Plata. There are 36,000 of them, of $100 each, and the B o t A N intends to let them loose on a hungry market next week.

That assault on the Town Hall Olavarria is a queer affair; queer, because the attackers were the police, and when the Mayor, Mr. Giovanelli, refused to give up the keys, these modern guardians of life and property smashed open every thing, tore up the books and papers, and wound up with an attempt to break open the safe, which contained $12,000 of the town's money. This the kind of thing that makes Europeans interested in these parts stare, though people here think nothing of it

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.
It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Wednesday, March 9th.

The market in general favors a fall in gold, but, strange to say, the premium remains as firm as a rock. Eighteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $55.90, fell to 55.60, rose to 56, and closed hard at 55.90, say 243½% premium. Seventeen hundred sovereigns were sold; the price opened at $17.35, fell to 17.33, and closed at 17.35, say 244½% premium. There was a heavy supply of gold from certain quarters and the knowing ones were prepared for a headlong fall, but they were mistaken, for every ounce offered was immediately taken up. The majority of operators are still waiting patiently for the turn in the tide; they believe that a fall is inevitable, but they wish to see the full force of the current before they plunge.

What with the undoubted improvement in politics and the scarcity of paper money, the bears fondly believe that they can control the market this month. The Banco de la Nacion Argentina, they argue, will not discount heavy amounts, and the admirable discretion of the Board in restricting discounts confirms their views. Furthermore, they attach much importance to so-called produce gold, which is daily thrown on the market and must help a speculation for a fall. All this seems very plausible, but for the last three days we have seen a very stubborn gold premium, in spite of all the efforts of the bears and of all these roseate arguments.

Stocks and shares were very dull all morning. Patriotic Bonds opened at 60.80, fell to 60.50, and closed heavy at 60.70. Catalinas opened at 7.10 and closed heavy at 7. National Cedulas A gold were done at 29, a very good price indeed, considering that neither the Bank nor the Government pay either interest or amortization on these bonds. La Plata Cedulas looked heavy and weak.

The exchange market continues very firm. Bills on London were reported as high as 48¾d. and francs on Paris at 5.10. The exchange business of the morning did not amount to much. Discounts shewed no improvement.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to day:—

The protest lodged by the liquidators on the Board of the National Bank was published to-day and the contents were the subject of much discussion in the hall. The liquidators, ex-directors Demarchi, Devoto and Salaberria, have brought an action against the Chairman of the Bank and ask the Federal Judge to declare null and void all resolutions of the present Board of the Bank. The plaintiffs' lawyer shows that the Government have no authority to divest his clients of their posts as directors on the Board and has drawn up the case in laconic but pungent fashion. For the present the case is merely against the Chairman, but complications must ensue in which the Minister of Finance must be forcibly involved. The strong point urged by the plaintiffs is that the charter of the Bank stipulates that in case of liquidation the winding-up must be conducted by four persons appointed by the private shareholders and by four appointed out of the twenty more important private creditors: this excludes government action "in to" so far as the management of the liquidation is concerned. Meantime, it is well to bear in mind that since the exchange of shares of the National Bank for Patriotic Bonds the interest of shareholders in the Bank does not exceed 10%: the balance is government interest, and this must weigh in the scales of justice.

The old historic sheds of the Plaza Once Station of the Western Railway are being rapidly demolished by the pickaxes of Italian workmen, and ere long the foundations will be laid of a structure that promises to be one of the finest stations in South America. We hear that the plans have been drawn up for the erection of a station on more or less the same plans as the familiar Cannon-Street Station in London: the Plaza Once station of the Western Railway is to have a mighty span of 150 metres. The traffic at the Plaza Once Station of late has been very heavy, two or three hundred waggons filled with produce arriving daily: the wonder is how the manager of the line manages to stow away all the produce and find room for these immense trains of waggons in the limited space of the Once. The new station is being built to meet the growing requirements of the line, in other words of the Northern and Western traffic of the province.

Settlers in the Venado Tuerto, one of the most flourishing districts in the West, have a service of three trains a week to Villa Constitucion on the bank of the Parana river. They find it more convenient to take this route and catch the Rosario train at the Empalme or junction than to drive to the Pacific line to the South. At the Rosario 'empalme', however, the passengers booked for Buenos Ayres must wait five hours to catch the Rosario train to Buenos Ayres at that junction. Passengers, therefore, as a rule prefer taking the up train to Rosario from the "empalme"; they arrive at Rosario at 7 p.m. more or less, have ample time for dinner there, and they take the nine o'clock night train to Buenos Ayres. It happens, however, that the vigorous punctuality of a station master interferes with this "modus operandi;" the train from Venado Tuerto is timed to meet the Rosario train coming up from B. Ayres; in case of delay the station master shows no mercy, off goes the train to Rosario as the Venado Tuerto train steams in, and unfortunate estancieros are obliged to wait for five hours for the return train from Rosario to Buenos Ayres. Settlers in those parts appeal to Manager Glasgow to time the Venado Tuerto train ten minutes or a quarter of an hour earlier should be on their guard. The police have taken steps in the matter, but all details are kept under reserve.

The cheques of the Provincial Bank were quoted to-day at 43 % discounts; those of the National Bank at 28½ to 29 % discount. La Plata Mortgage Bonos rose to 12 and 13½.

Mr. J. Santa Marina has bought 1,200 "novillos" in Bahia Blanca at 20$ per head.

and the following first-class passengers:—

Mr and Mrs Bruce, Mrs MacLean, Mr and Mrs Stevenson, Mr and Mrs Bienfield, Mrs Stafford and family, Mrs Murray and family, Mr Cutlar, Mr Buchanan, Mr Shornton, Mr Harber, and Mr Davies.

The gold market ruled firm at the second ring; fourteen thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow; the price opened at 55.10$, rose to 56.20, and closed at 56.10, say 2443 % premium. Sovereigns closed at 17.40$, say 2454 % premium. Stocks and shares were dull and neglected.

The juries to settle all complaints in the classification of licenses in this capital will meet on the 10th inst. Mr. Osvaldo Rocha has been appointed chairman for the North and Mr. E. Chayla for the South end.

Mr. Oliver Budge, manager of the East-Argentine Railway, and Mr. Fernando G. Mendez, editor of the Amigo del Pueblo, were welcomed to-day on their arrival from Concordia. They state that the large vineyards in that district have escaped the ravages of the locusts, and thousands of barrels of Concordia wine will be soon on the market. The Yuquá Colony is progressing, in spite of all drawbacks, and quite an important and populous settlement has sprung up on the old Campbell estancia. All the farmers about Concordia are devoting special attention to wine-growing.

The adjourned second ordinary general meeting of the Entre Rios Extract of Meat Company (Limited) was held on February 8 at Billiter Square Buildings, Mr. W. Mowat presiding. In moving the adoption of the report, the Chairman observed that, remembering the difficulties against which they had had to contend, he thought it matter for congratulation that their capital was intact, and that they had made something, and the nature of their business induced them to believe that it would prove remunerative in the future. The past year had been one of the most trying in the history of the commercial world, and nowhere had this been more felt than in the River Plate. Finding that the manufacture of extract of beef was not remunerative, the directors began manufacturing dried beef for Brazil and the West Indies. The small quantity of extract which they made proved very satisfactory, and the directors would recommence its manufacture on a large scale when this step could be taken without the company sustaining loss. An arrangement had been entered into by the local directors and the Government by which the company had agreed to waive the question of guarantee for the year, providing the Government relieved the company from all payment of duties, excepting that upon the export of dried beef. The directors had thought it advisable for one of their number to visit Buenos Ayres and the factory at Gualeguay, and they desired to thank their colleague, Mr. Francis Muir, for undertaking this task. His visit had been entirely satisfactory in connection with the objects for which it had been made. The directors were at present obliged to present their accounts in December, but, as this did not allow sufficient time for preparing them, they desired the shareholders to extend the date to March. With reference to the item of £10,000 debentures which appeared in the balance sheet, it had been found necessary to issue them in order to provide the funds required for the dried-beef business, and Mr. Muir believed that if this sum could be increased to £25,000 they would be able to do a very profitable trade in this direction. There would be a considerable reduction in the expenses next year. With a normal state of things, there was no reason why they should not give a very good return to the shareholders. The motion was seconded by Mr. F. Muir, and carried.

I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The GASEOUS FLUID is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the RED DRENCH for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider splendid.

Yours truly,

EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infallible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.

which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 25/ per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores and Chascomus.

This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.
